

Pavements Conference 2020

Call for Presentation Topics

Pavement's Conference 2020 Call for Presentation Topics

Since 2009 Transport for NSW Pavements Unit has been organising a biennial pavements conference to share knowledge, experience, lessons learnt and innovations in the areas of pavement design, construction and maintenance. The next pavements conference is scheduled on Wednesday 27 May 2020, to be held at Novotel Parramatta.

The call for presentation topics is now open for the 2020 Pavements Conference. Interested speakers are invited to submit a proposal to present.

Submission Requirements and Selection Criteria

Proposals must include the following details and be no longer than one page:

- Presenter name and affiliation
- Proposed presentation title
- Presentation category (see list below)
- Presentation abstract (150-350 words, maximum half a page)

Proposals are to be focused upon one of the following categories:

- Pavement Design
- Pavement Construction
- Maintenance and Asset Management
- Pavement Materials

Presentations must be of a technical nature, and will be selected in accordance with their degree of relevance to the conference categories and value to Transport for NSW projects. Preference will be given to presentations that fit within an overarching theme of innovation and sustainability.

The selected presenters will be allocated 20 minutes maximum for their presentation, with additional question and answer time. Please nominate only one author to deliver the presentation (co-authors may assist during question and answer time).

After notification of proposal acceptance, presenters will be required to submit their complete presentation for final review and feedback.

Please submit your proposal via email to Pavements.Conference@rms.nsw.gov.au by 6 January 2020.
